One Day Workshop on Small Business Start Up

The department of MBA organized a one-day workshop on "Small Business Start Up" on 24-11-2017. Total 142 students attended for this one day workshop from both B.Tech IV Year Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical And Electronics Engineering And Electronics And Communications Engineering. The main aim of this workshop is learn how to develop your own tech start up! Grasp essential entrepreneurial concepts from industry-leading mentors in Google, Uber, Amazon, etc. while coding a mobile app prototype of your product. The final pitch day allows teams to present their work to a panel of accomplished judges and parents. This type of entrepreneurship can help professionals focus on collecting ideas from a variety of places and find enough data to build the perfect strategy to implement these ideas. Entrepreneurs can introduce innovation to the business through product development, process improvement, service and business model improvement. Any new product takes a while to get the kinks out. This workshop is meant for students and faculty.

Dr.K.Jaya Chandra, Principal, SRET welcomed the distinguished speaker and participants. In the welcome speech, he highlighted the significance of research in electrical engineering. He also instructed all the faculty members and students should follow all the workshop sessions without fail.

A Report on
One Day Workshop on
RESEARCH ISSUES AND CHALLENGES IN ELECTRONICS AND COMMUNICATION ENGINEERING
Organised by department of ECE

The department of ECE organized a one day workshop on "Research Issues And Challenges in Electronics and Communication Engineering" on 26th October 2017. The main aim of this workshop is to create awareness on Research Methodology in peer reviewed journals for III & IV B.Tech students. 165 students participated in this event.

The schedule of this workshop is as follows:

S. No.	Session	Description	Speaker
1.	Forenoon session	- Choosing a research topic - Finding research funding - Overcoming imposter syndrome - Building a good research team - Recruiting research participants - Staying self-motivated and managing your time	Dr. B. Prabhakar Reddy Professor of ECE, Bheema Institute of Technology and Science, Adoni
2.	Afternoon session	- Research challenges - Managing the challenges and queries

Dr. K. Jaya Chandra, Principal, SRET welcomed all the distinguished lectures/speakers from the mentor institute and participants. In the welcome speech, he highlighted the significance of publications for an academician/. He also instructed all the faculty members should follow all the workshop sessions without fail.

Dr B Prabhakar Reddy starts the forenoon session with the discussion the task of defining a research problem, He told Being a researcher is a rewarding career for many reasons: You get to explore new ideas, work with cutting-edge technology, learn about the world, and have important discussions with like-minded individuals. But, research doesn't come without its challenges.

The Speaker enlightened the faculty and students with the following topics:

1. Choosing a research topic: Starting a new research project and narrowing your focus to a single topic is one of the first challenges that help us to face as an researcher. For that the research person told : to Stay flexible and consider all the angle
2. Finding research funding: Another common challenge that researchers face is finding the money they need to get the research done. Sometimes this comes alongside the shock of how much the required materials, tools, and assistance will cost. Research is more expensive than most people imagine. As a solution the resource person told to think outside our social and geographical boxes
3. Convincing others of the value of your research: Your research may be important. But, few people will take your word for it without a little convincing. For projects that take a long time to execute or require significant resources, for this the resource person gave a tip to Reflect on your research purpose
4. Overcoming imposter syndrome: Researchers have to expose themselves and their work to criticism. While others are criticizing the value of your work, it can be hard to maintain a high level of confidence in yourself so remind yourself of your research (and personal) success she mentioned
5. Building a good research team (or finding collaborators: Research is rarely done alone. Chances are you're going to need a research team to support you (or collaborators in the same field of research to connect with. Use all available resources and expand your network
6. Recruiting research participants (or collecting samples) Managing participant recruitment and sample collection is a difficult part of many research projects the resource person told don't be afraid to ask (but be sure to come prepared)
7. Staying self-motivated and managing your time: Plan and put accountability systems in place

8. Ensuring your research doesn't sit and collect dust: Wrap up your research with the future in mind

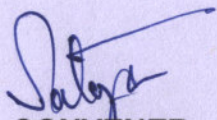

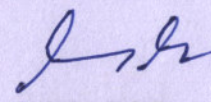

Dr B Prabhakar Reddy sir is explaining about the research challenges in ECE

In the afternoon session, Dr. B Prabhakar Reddy describes Research challenges: Expecting the unexpected While it would be great to be able to “expect the unexpected,” the most effective strategy for managing challenges is to simply keep an open mind. Recognize early on that your research is never going to go exactly the way you anticipate (and embrace that as part of the fun of being a researcher).

very often, follows a sequential pattern—the problem is stated in a general way, the ambiguities are resolved, thinking and rethinking process results in a more specific formulation of the problem so that it may be a realistic one in terms of the available

At last, the convener, SRET had delivered vote of thanks to the SRET management, distinguished speakers from BITS and faculty members. Later, the workshop ends with National Anthem.
